

Africa International University/NEGST and Oasis Africa are pleased to announce the new

Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Counseling

WHY A BA IN PSYCHOLOGY AND COUNSELING?

Africa is in trauma. Trained professionals with Christian commitment are needed to bring hope and healing to married couples, extended families and young people who need guidance and answers in the face of confusing modern times. What is needed is a unique training programme with the following features:

- Academic excellence with practical experience
- Christian perspective with a sensitivity to the riches of African culture
- Flexible hours of study with convenient downtown location
- Small classes and individual attention

Africa international University/NEGST in partnership with Oasis Africa are launching a BA in Psychology and counseling that does exactly that.

“Trained professionals with Christian commitment are needed to bring hope and healing to married couples, extended families and young people who need guidance and answers in the face of confusing modern times”

THE DIRECTOR OF THE PROGRAMME

Dr Gladys Mwititi (PhD Fuller) is an AIU faculty member, coordinator of the BA in AIU's school of professional studies and founder/ director of Oasis Africa.

Under her skillful leadership the BA in psychology and counseling will become one of the most useful programmes on the continent for raising up Christ- centered leaders to meet the needs of troubled families and individuals and transforming God's people and world.
